In Effort To Resolve Dispute

Senate-House Committee To Study Regents Proposal

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Staff Correspondent

COLUMBUS, Ohio—The Rhodes administration's key education policy measure will be laid on the legislative bargaining table Monday night in hopes a House-Senate conference committee can resolve a dispute over its contents.

The bill creates a nine-member Ohio Board of Regents with broad powers for supervising and regulating higher education. It passed the Senate last week and returns to the House Monday night for concurrence in Senate amendments.

But the chief sponsors of the bill—Reps. Harry Jump, R-Huron, and Robert H. Longworth, R-Carroll—insist the measure has been made ineffective by the Senate and that the House will not concur in the amendments.

Up to Conference

That means a conference committee and, according to Longworth, the possibility—albeit remote—that the bill could go down the drain.

It is highly unlikely, however, that the administration will let that happen.

Although he isn't commenting on it, Gov. Rhodes' position reportedly is that the bill as it stands now is better than no bill at all.

At issue are three amendments tacked onto the bill by the Senate Education Committee which would:

STRIP the board of its power to approve or reject all new state university degrees and degree programs, leaving only the power to recommend.

PERMIT extension of eminent domain powers only to those private colleges and universities with endowments under $12.5 million.

ADD the House and Senate education chairmen to the board of regents as ex-officio members.

To Serve on Committee

That last point is of more than passing interest because both Education chairmen are expected to be among the three members from each house who will serve on the conference committee.

Longworth, the House Education chairman, wants nothing to do with the board and has requested a seat on the conference committee primarily for that reason.

"I think it's only proper that if Bob Longworth doesn't want to be on the board that it should be up to Bob Longworth to say so," said Bob Longworth.

But his counterpart in the upper house, Sen. Ross Pepple, R-Lima, doesn't see it that way. Pepple wants very much to be on the board. In fact, the amendment to permit it was his idea.

On The Move
While the regents bill has been grounded temporarily, other key Rhodes proposals are on the move amid an over-all quickening of the legislative tempo here.

Both houses have completed action on the liquor board reorganization bill, which changes the four-member board to a three-member commission and raises members' salaries.

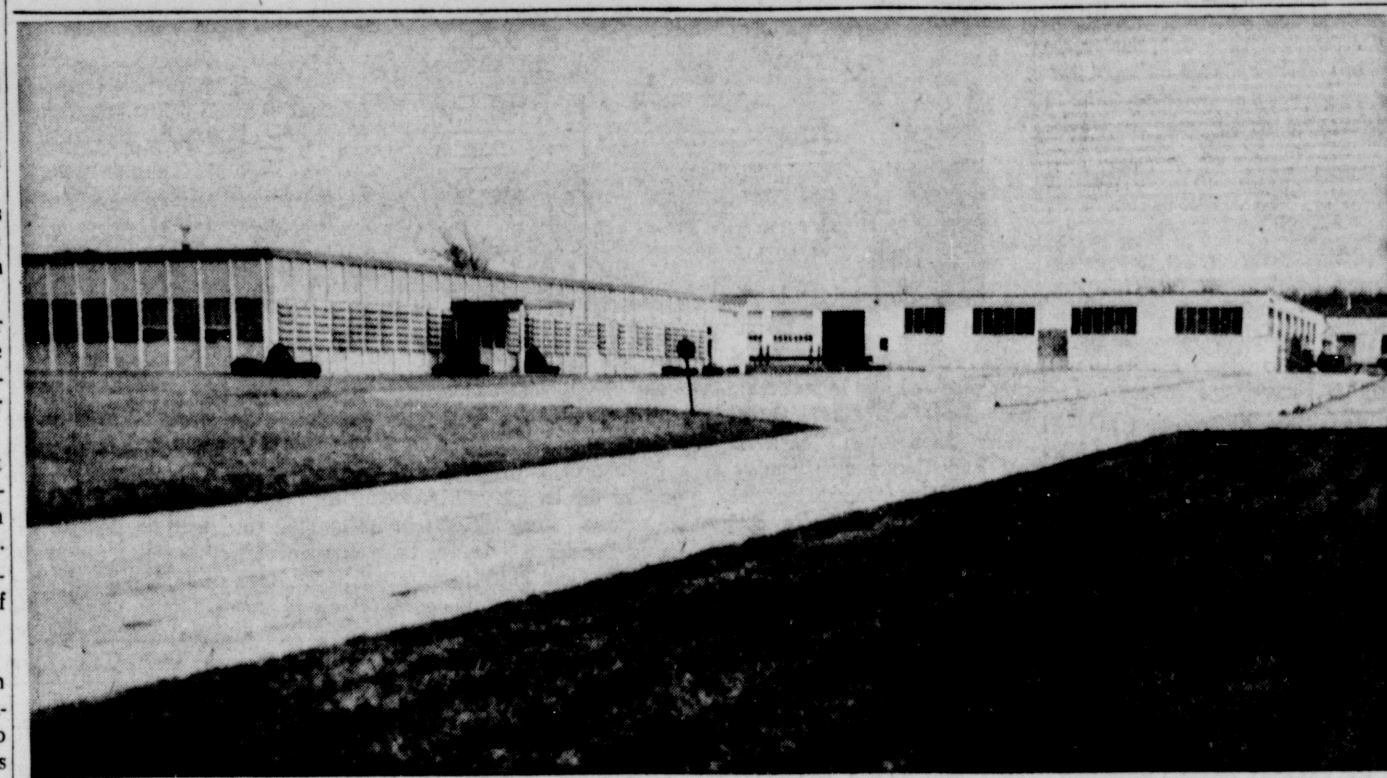

The House has passed and sent to the Senate a bill to create a three-member youth commission to combat juvenile delinquency.

On Schedule, Cloud Says
House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, says the legislative timetable is on schedule and that three other major bills will be on the House floor by April 30.

The bills, which Cloud says are the only "vital" measures still in committee, would:

The Former F. C. Russell Co. Plant At Columbiana May Soon Hum Again

Manufacturer Leasing Former Russell Plant

Will Make Varied Household Items; May Employ 150

COLUMBIANA — This community had bright prospects today of a new industry employing about 150 people.

The Ballonoff Metal Products Co. of 2490 Lee Blvd., Cleveland, is in the process of completing lease arrangements for the idle F. C. Russell Co. plant on Route 344 just west of Columbiana for the manufacture here of miscellaneous household articles.

Harold Ballonoff, company president, and other officials of the firm have been at the Russell plant this past week, inspecting the facilities which were vacated by Russell in March of 1962, following labor troubles.

Irvig Ballonoff, an officer of the Cleveland concern, and Wayne Bauer, president of the Columbiana Chamber of Commerce, confirmed the fact that lease negotiations are all but completed.

Chamber, Banks Active
The Chamber and Columbiana's two banks, the Union Banking Co. and the Citizens Bank, have played an important role in getting the Cleveland firm to establish manufacturing facilities here. Meetings have been in progress for the past two months after the Chamber learned that Ballonoff was looking for new quarters in eastern Ohio.

Harold Ballonoff said Friday that "definite plans of operation should be known within a week." The company bought the Harwell Kilgore Co. of Bolivar, Tenn., which had to move from its Tennessee location by May 1. The modern Russell plant appeared to be best-suited for the planned manufacture of such lithographed products as waste baskets, TV snack trays, canisters, heating pad for stove top and other products, including some made of plastic.

The Russell Company, which made aluminum doors and window materials, still has considerable equipment in the plant here. It was shut down here in March of 1962 and operations centered at Pandora, in western Ohio.

2 Drivers Cited After Accidents

Two collisions involving five automobiles were investigated by Salem city police Friday.

At 3:20 p.m. a three-car mishap on E. Pershing St. about 500 feet west of S. Broadway involved cars operated by Jack H. Pike, 28, of 2082 Southeast Blvd., Robert L. Campbell, 31, of 318 Woodland Ave., and William Eyster, 57, of RD 1, Damascus Road.

All three vehicles were damaged, and the Eyster car was removed from the scene by wrecker. Following the accident, Eyster

Georgia Youth Kills Fishermen Discovered In Boat Adrift Near Cuba

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — A wide search for a bedeviled Georgia boy and two Key West fishermen ended when the Coast Guard found the blood-stained lad alone on the fishermen's boat, out of fuel close to Cuba.

"I murdered them and threw them overboard," Coast Guardmen said Roger Foster, 17, told them Friday night on the 32-foot cabin cruiser of Douglas Trevor, 47, and his son, Edward, 22.

The 95-foot patrol vessel's crew gave Foster first aid, put him under guard and towed the boat—blood-spattered also, they said—toward Key West.

Waiting there were Monroe County's sheriff and grief-stricken friends and kin of the Trevors. Waiting also—and not informed at once of what had happened—was Dr. H.A. Foster of Griffin, Ga., who flew here when the search for his son began.

A suicide note found in Roger's blood-spattered Key West motel room had said, "I think I am insane." It urged authorities, "Do not publicize my death. Be careful when you tell my father because he has a bad heart."

A Key West naval physician, Lt. Terrell Tanner, refused to tell newsmen where his friend, Dr. Foster, was spending Friday night.

"I intend to break the news to him Saturday," Tanner said. "I think it would be better for him to have what rest he can get before he hears what the Coast Guard found."

A picture of mental turmoil over American Nazism, the Communist party and Cuba's dictator Fidel Castro began shaping up about Roger Foster. He was described by his mother in Griffin as "a brilliant boy (who) seemed to have strange ideas" that prompted his parents to have him interviewed by a psychologist.

"Maybe he was trying to get to Cuba and go after Castro on his own," Mrs. Foster said. "Roger tried to start an anti-Communist club at Griffin High School."

Roger's mother said distress over a knee injury that prevented his competing in school athletics may have led him to disappear

In Effort To Locate Sub's Hull Vessels Probe For Thresher's Grave

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dark weather and gale winds swept farther out to sea today, clearing the skies over a dozen ships probing the deep grave of the submarine Thresher.

The court of inquiry's hearings will include a probe into the structural integrity of the Thresher after her overhaul in the Portsmouth, N.H., Navy Yard.

It was from this overhaul that the Thresher departed Tuesday for test dives. It was never heard from again after plunging down for its final, maximum test dive Wednesday morning.

Whistling 45-mile-an-hour winds and 15-to 20-foot waves crashed against the search ships Friday, hampering operations and delaying plans.

The loss of the Thresher could force the Navy to change some of its secret message code system.

Whether codes are changed to prevent them from falling into the hands of other nations depends on such things as the place where a ship sinks, water depth and the possibility of access to the wreck.

More Poisoned Tuna Found Stores, Housewives Warned By FDA

By The Associated Press
Grocers and housewives have been alerted to a new botulism threat, this time in canned tuna prepared for the Jewish Passover season already under way.

The Food and Drug Administration in Washington announced Friday that some defective cans of tuna gave indications of being contaminated by the deadly clostridium botulinum type E.

The cans in question were shipped to six metropolitan areas within the past two months, FDA officials said. They bear the stamped serial numbers WY2 and WY3 and the labels read, in part, "Dvagim—white tuna—kosher for Passover—net wt. 7 oz."

The areas are New York, Detroit, Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, and Augusta, Ga.

A spokesman for the FDA said "We don't think a large amount has been sold." He said the shipper had notified all recipients last week of the possibility that the canned tuna was contaminated.

The spokesman said about 10 defective cans had been tested and most showed indications of botulism. All, he said, were found in the metropolitan New

Schaffer Indicted In Traffic Deaths

LISBON — A teen-age Winona motorist indicted secretly Thursday by the April grand jury, posted bond Friday afternoon in Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard's court.

Jerry Schaffer, 18, was indicted in the traffic deaths of Leon B. Knag, 38, of RD 1, Salem, and Leroy Hough, 30, of Van Buren Ave., Salem, who were killed in a four-car crash March 22 on the Route 62 Damascus Road just west of Salem on the Blackburn Hill.

Five other persons were injured in the mishap including Schaffer.

The grand jury indicted Schaffer on three counts of traffic violations—reckless operation, speeding, and driving left of the center line.

Bond was set at $1,500 by the court and Schaffer made the bond and was released to enter a formal plea on arraignment day, April 22.

Easter Services

★ ★ ★ Christians Throughout the U.S. Bow In Prayer

By The Associated Press
Christians throughout the nation—Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox—will gather Easter Sunday to celebrate the centuries-old but ever-radiant drama of Christ's resurrection.

Wherever there stands a sign of the cross, the reverent will make their way to mountain-top altars, valley shrines, outdoor arenas, underground caverns and flower-bedecked churches.

"He is risen—He is risen indeed," will ring throughout Christendom.

President Kennedy and his family are likely to attend Easter services in Palm Beach at St. Edwards or, as they did last year, attend private services held at the home of the President's father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is recovering from a stroke suffered in December, 1961.

The Weather Bureau said exceptional fine spring weather is in store for the nation as a whole, which will give Easter Parade participants a chance to show off their new spring clothes.

The most spectacular of these will be on New York City's Fifth Avenue, where tens of thousands will parade.

One of the largest outdoor services will be held in Florida at Miami Stadium. In previous years, the services and a pageant sponsored by Miami Council of Churches drew 40,000 yearly.

In Winston-Salem, N. C., the 191st Moravian Sunrise Easter Service will be held in front of

350 At Community Good Friday Service

"I thirst. It is finished. Father, into Thy hands I commend My Spirit."

These, the last words of Christ before He died on the cross, formed the subject of a talk by Rev. W. S. Longworth at the annual interdenominational Good Friday service in the Methodist Church yesterday afternoon.

Approximately 350 persons attended the services, in which Rev. Mr. Longworth, Methodist pastor, was assisted by Rev. Arthur Brown Jr., Nazarene Church pastor and president of the Salem Ministerial Association, and Rev. Robert Irwin, associate pastor of the Methodist Church.

Rev. Longworth said that the words of Jesus, "I thirst," reveal the humanity of Christ.

"He suffered as a person, and because of His suffering, He understands ours. We never suffer alone; He suffers with us," the speaker declared.

The Methodist pastor said that Christ's next utterance, "It is finished," reveals a concern on the part of the Son of God that perhaps He, Jesus, could not measure up to all that His Father wanted of Him. Rev. Longworth expressed a belief that the torture and suffering Jesus underwent before He died were more than He had anticipated.

But Jesus did not complain to His Father about all that had been asked of Him, and, according to Rev. Longworth, the final word of Jesus, "Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit," shows that at the end Jesus must have felt that He had met the condition His Father expected Him to meet.

Special Good Friday music was furnished by the Methodist church's junior and senior high school choirs under the direction of William Keck, with Homer Taylor at the organ.

Lisbon Man To Aid Saint Lucians

William Minton Volunteers for Peace Corps

LISBON—Palm trees, bright white beaches, a sparkling sea—this is how travel brochures describe Saint Lucia, a small West Indies island in the Windward Chain.

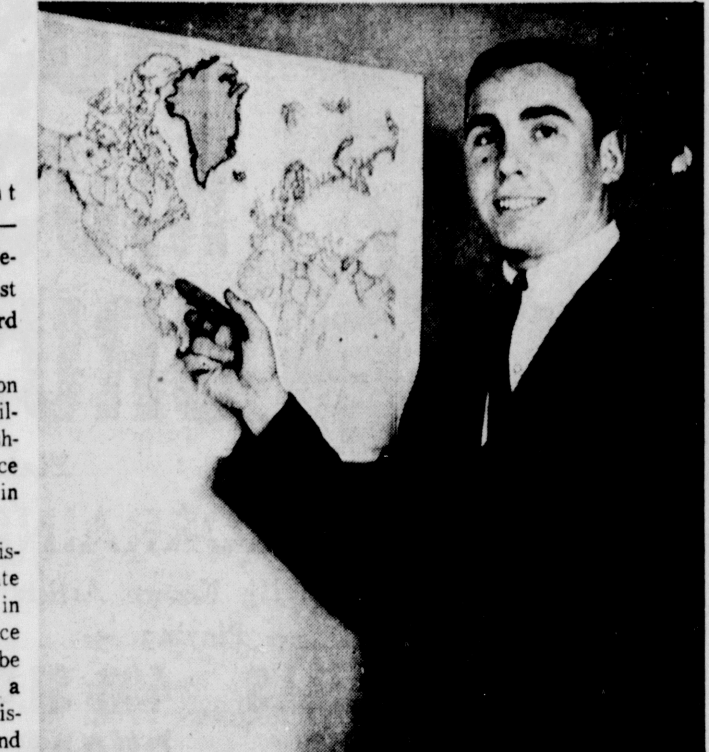

But life is hardly a vacation to the islanders, according to William Minton, 23, of 247 W. Washington St., who will join the Peace Corps in Saint Lucia sometime in October.

Minton, a 1958 graduate of Lisbon High School, will graduate from Youngstown University in May with a bachelor of science degree in education and will be one of 34 workers leaving for a two-year stay on the tropical island. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Minton and has two sisters, Linda, 16, and Lisa, 1.

In preparation for his overseas assignment, Minton will leave on June 10 for one of the may colleges in the United States which gives instruction to Peace Corps trainees.

After three months' training, he will receive a 10-day leave and then be sent to Puerto Rico for one month of continued schooling and field work in community development.

Minton was a Tri-County football player and captain of the grid and cage squads in high school, and played two seasons of football at Wittenberg University before transferring to Youngstown University. His duties at Saint Lucia will be teaching in the island's teachers college and working in physical education.

Saint Lucia is a relatively small island (230 square miles), but the fact that it has a population of over 86,000—or more than 350 persons per square mile—accounts for an unemployment rate of over 20 per cent.

The mountainous island, a British colony ceded in 1814, has been aided by Peace Corps workers since September of 1961. The islanders are engaged mainly in agriculture, but are unable to produce enough food to feed themselves.

"It's something I've wanted to do and thought of doing for a long time," Minton said, when asked why he had volunteered for the assignment.

City Churches Await Throngs Celebrating Resurrection

Sunrise Services, Special Programs Are Scheduled

By VIRGINIA HURRAY

"Christ is risen!"

This - the most triumphant message ever received by Christians - will be observed by residents of the Salem area Easter Sunday in ways connecting them in spirit with other people who would follow Christ's teachings, throughout the globe today and in centuries past.

Not that everybody will celebrate in exactly the same way. Customs vary as much as the flowers of Salem gardens and Columbiana County woodland.

In this community, undoubtedly, are the children who will hear for the first time this Easter the story of how Jesus suffered torture and death and then came to life again as He said He would.

WHO WILL SAY WHICH is greater: the thrill of the little ones hearing the Easter story for the first time; or the consolation given by the Resurrection to the adult members of some 380 families where there were deaths of dear ones in Salem hospitals and homes since last Easter?

For, since His promise to rise again was fulfilled, of course His offer of eternal life for us after death will be met.

And are there not in our neighborhood persons who suffer and who watch suffering, who get comforting reminder that there is divine reason for it all; for God let His own Son die ignominiously - the suffering lasting hours, the glory going on for eternity.

IN SALEM, MORE PERSONS attend church on Easter than on any other day of the year, attesting agreement with early Christians who called Easter the "peak of all feasts." Records show that Easter was regarded centuries ago like "the sun among stars" when compared to other holidays or holy days.

And Salemites, like counterparts throughout the world, try to look their best on Easter.

The Easter parade, which here may not amount to a walk more extensive than from Dad's car to a church pew and back again, with perhaps some augmentation as folks in spring finery stop off to visit friends, had its beginning in religious observation of the early Christian church.

NEW OUTFITS WERE worn then not at all in the spirit of vanity but as a symbol of new life in Christ gained through Lenten penances.

There are churches in this vicinity where Paschal candles are lit, sunrise services are attended, Easter water is carried away to be sprinkled prayerfully throughout homes, and other favorite customs in ages past and times present are observed.

The following Easter services are planned by churches here:

Assembly of God Choir To Present Cantata

The choir of the First Assembly of God Church will present the Cantata, "What a Saviour" (Peterson) at 7:45 p.m. Sunday in the church.

The group is directed by Clifford Aiken. Mrs. David Barth is pianist and Mrs. Harold Barnes, organist.

Rev. Paul C. Taylor, pastor of the church, will narrate the presentation.

Holy Trinity Lutheran Church Youth Complete Study

The twenty-six confirmands who were received into membership of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church Sunday will take their first Holy Communion Sunday at the 10:45 a.m. worship service.

The group completed a course of study covering a two-year period on the Ten Commandments, the Lord's Prayer, Apostles' Creed, Sacrament of Holy Baptism, Sacrament of Holy Communion and the Holy Bible.

Easter, a Story of Faith, Hope

Salemites will join countless others Easter morning to proclaim with solemn joy the affirmation of our belief in the risen Christ. But what of the days to follow? Is our demonstrated witness sufficient that others might know, for example, what John said about the Saviour when he wrote:

I am the resurrection, and the life; he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: An whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die. Believest thou this? (John 11:25-26).

This belief, this acceptance of the foundation of Christendom is not an event for Easter alone but an experience to be shared any day and any hour.

The message of the Cross is one that Christians everywhere are commanded to share with others.

The great stone which sealed the Tomb was rolled back to become a door to eternal life for all who will believe in the stunning reality of the Resurrection, a story that has been told here and elsewhere during this past Holy Week.

As the very world around us joins in proclaiming a miracle of rebirth after the barrenness of winter, it is a timely reminder that a Living Christ would have us to tell others the Story that is old, yet ever new.

Not a Cackle Was Heard

There is every reason to believe every steel producer in the country knew Wheeling Steel Corp. was going to commemorate the first anniversary of the steel ruckus with the Kennedy administration by announcing a price increase.

But no one seems to have been eager to beat Wheeling Steel to the punch. And judged by the first day's reaction, no one is eager to match Wheeling Steel's announcement. Everybody is walking softly.

This is in contrast with what happened a year ago when United States Steel's block-busting announcement of a price boost was echoed by five other producers within a day. I looked as if the entire steel industry might be getting together in a mass price-boosting reaction to a wage agreement that had stabilized production costs.

Post mortems are still being held over the Kennedy administration's counter-reaction. And it is still worth looking into that its counter-reaction was sparked by what must have seemed to the young men in Washington like an assault on the New Frontier stockade by renegade whites.

They never had time to think ahead to the implications of what they promptly did, which was to react to the steel industry's reaction with a spatter of the vigor on which they pride themselves. They shot from the hip.

This time the steel industry, if not wiser, is cagier. It may have learned something from that counter-reaction in 1962.

In this country's chicken-stealing era, now only a memory, experts could go into a hen house and tuck heads under wings so gently the victims never woke up until their time had come. Even rank amateurs were too cute to rush into the hen house as if they were staging a raid. Easy did it. You took the chickens on so gently one at a time.

Maybe the steel industry learned a year ago never to give the chickens anything to cackle about.

Highest Paid -- When Working

John L. Lewis, president emeritus of the United Mine Workers of America, was honored at a Washington luncheon last Wednesday by the National Coal Policy Conference.

The occasion was his turning over the office of chairman of the conference to Joseph P. Routh, chairman of the board of a major coal producer. Among those who praised Mr. Lewis as a great industrial statesman was George H. Love, who used to negotiate for the coal industry in the bitterest fights of an era now ended.

The coal industry could not have survived without Mr. Lewis, explained Mr. Love. This is what he meant:

During a period when the use of coal was shrinking, the man who dominated the unionized miners made no objection when management speeded up mechanization and automation of mining. The shining consequence was emergence of the U.S. coal miner as the world's highest-paid skilled artisan — when working. The drab consequence was the permanent "disemployment" of tens of thousands of miners and the stranding of dozens of mining communities that lost un-economic mines which could not compete.

And how does the president emeritus of United Mine Workers feel about this now that he is 83 years old and an industrial statesman honored by the mine owners who once reviled him? He is worried about six million unemployed, including those tens of thousands of "disemployed" coal miners.

He says something had better be done about unemployment; that he is surprised at the patience of the unemployed.

We must assume he includes in his thoughts the patience of coal miners who once followed him step by step as he demanded the wage and fringe benefits that made it imperative to mechanize and automate mines to cut labor costs, until surviving miners were a privileged class and all others were on relief.

The Easter Egg Hunt

Many of us who were fortunate enough to have known Joe Kelley before his untimely death in 1951, are reminded each Easter time of the beloved city recreational director's success in holding egg hunts each spring at Centennial Park. Joe supervised many activities for the city's youngsters but the Easter egg hunt was always a highlight.

The Salem Council of the United Commercial Travelers has carried on this traditional event ever since, and today's contest at the park is typical, with hundreds of boys and girls of all ages taking part. The UCT is to be commended for its fine efforts.

Safety Margin

By Truman Twill

Be assured, readers, that the question never came up in connection with this writer's experience in school, but is there any danger of overtaxing Johnny's and Susie's little brains with too much learning?

Must we protect the kiddies from over exertion in the classroom and with homework? Is there danger that if we hammer away at them too hard their little brains will go boinging and they will spend the rest of their lives being idiots?

Let's not be silly.

There is no more danger of hurting a kid's mind by overtraining it than there is in listening too hard or breathing too much.

If maximum effort were represented by 100, most kids never go over 20 per cent in their entire educational experience.

And if maximum educational attainment were represented by 100, most learnable kids would level off around 10. All the rest is safety margin.

Where the idea came from that children must be protected against too much effort and, indeed, too much education, is uncertain. Mothers are heard to say they object to their children's head being crammed so full they might burst.

Whenever it's proposed that schools buckle down in earnest to the job of education and let someone else worry about baby-sitting, the bitter truth comes out. Many people resent education. School yes. Education no.

They went to school themselves without worrying about education, and what was good enough for them is good enough for their children.

They have been able to get along without much more than knowing how to read and write at a minimum level and don't want their offspring to be getting fancy ideas in a workaday world.

It isn't whimsy that causes politicians to sneer at "brain - trusters" and "eggheads." It's the sure instinct of the vote-getter about what to have that will do him the most good at the polls.

Many of us, perhaps most of us, feel contempt for highly educated people. They are "intellectual snobs," "bookworms," and "grinds" — and a pox on them.

Worst of all, they may have had something to do with Harvard University, than which nothing could be more darkly suspicious with every move to improve.

This has been a problem in the United States for generations. The point is, it's a problem that must be faced up to in connection with very move to improve education.

The going-downhill generation mistrusts all proposals for accelerating the pace of the coming-uphill generation. All change is resented and resisted. This is to be expected.

Unfortunately, though, it isn't expected. It catches people by surprise, especially those who have put their faith in education and the proposition that education is infinitely improvable, like the human mind.

Education is too important to be left to the whims and mischiefs of its enemies, which is what we do in effect when we leave decisions about it to people who think the way they were educated was so all-fired good it couldn't be improved on.

That's the dead giveaway. No person who thinks it, much less preaches it, is qualified to cope with the problems of education.

Steel Industry Can Move Ahead With Confidence

By DAVID LAWRENCE

President Kennedy has at least dealt sensibly with the problem of steel prices, in contrast with his action a year ago which unsettled the national economy. His mistake brought a mood of depression then. The correction of his error should bring a mood of confidence now.

David Lawrence: For, in effect, the federal government has just announced that hereafter it will refrain from efforts to fix prices in any industry.

The text of the statement issued by the President is phrased, to be sure, with an eye to political effects. It was necessary to say something not merely to businessmen but to labor leaders about wage - price stability and the avoidance of inflation.

For the political record, it was doubtless deemed wise to make it appear that the President's words this week are consistent with what he said a year ago. He said, for instance, in his statement on Thursday:

"The administration is watching closely the possibilities of a general across - the - board price increase in steel. I opposed such an increase last year — I oppose such an increase now."

Anyone who knows anything about the price-making process in steel is aware that a rise in the price list is always accompanied by variations, both upward and downward, in selected items. That's what the Wheeling Steel Co. announced earlier this week it intended to do, and that's what other steel companies wanted to try last year and apparently now are free to do with the ambigous blessing of the White House.

THE KEY sentence, however, in the President's statement—the substance of which, though not the phraseology, will be welcomed throughout the steel industry — reads as follows:

"I realize that price and wage controls in this one industry while all others are unrestrained would be unfair and inconsistent with our free competitive market — that unlike last year the government's good faith has not been engaged in talks with industry and union representatives — and that selected price adjustments, up or down, as prompted by changes in supply and demand, as opposed to across-the-board increases, are not incompatible with a framework of general stability and steel-price stability and are characteristic of any healthy economy."

Unfortunately, Mr. Kennedy again by inference accuses the steel executives of bad faith a year ago, though he must know that steel executives had said in public statements during the negotiations in 1962 that a price increase was long overdue.

The administration in April 1962 made the mistake of breaking up the very same kind of process of changing prices on selected items in steel as it is approving today.

MR. KENNEDY says he is merely urging restraint. He makes an appeal in general terms to labor, too, as follows:

"I urge similar restraint on the Steel Workers Union. With more than 100,000 steel workers still unemployed, their need is for more jobs with job security, not fewer jobs at higher wages. Across-the-board price increases could precipitate labor demands and unrest and would cause great difficulties for the country."

The President might better have said this same thing a year ago, and the Eisenhower administration might have said it in 1959 in settling the Big Steel strike of that year. It all points up the salient fact that, if wage costs rise faster than they can be absorbed in price increases, he is bound to produce unemployment.

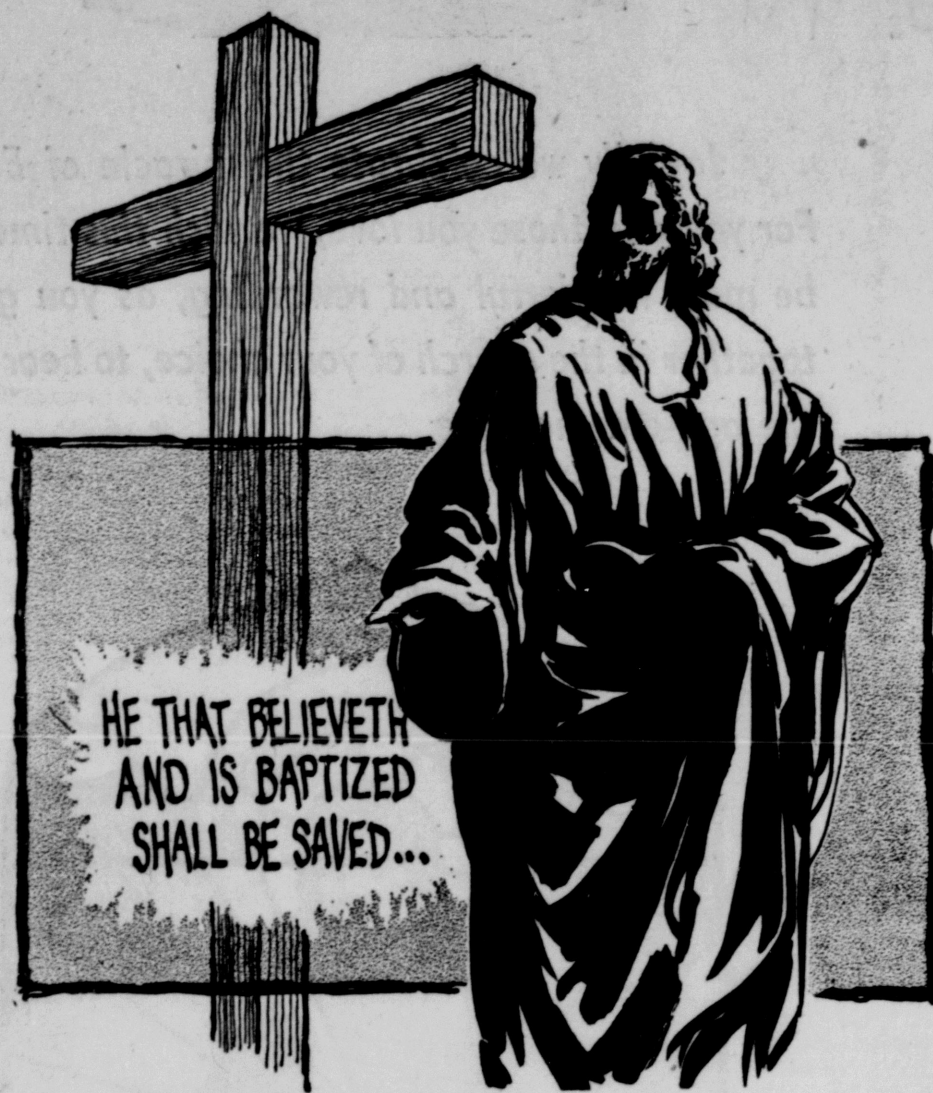

The problem is by no means solved by the President's statement about the announcement of one steel company that intends making selected price increases.

The big question is buyer resistance. Can the national economy absorb price increases at a time of sluggish operations? Can there be confidence in the future if wage costs continue to rise while higher prices cannot be maintained?

IT'S CONCEIVABLE that any substantial increase, even of a selective nature, in steel prices today may diminish demand.

President Kennedy, however, at least has taken away the threat

The Way of Peace

Who Is the Law?

By VICTOR RIESEL

Several federal agencies, presumably authorized to speak for the people of the United States, are now attempting to determine law — the government of the United States or some Teamsters' official charged with pushing around whole communities.

I ran into

Victor Riesel this story in Chicago the other day. And the answer to the question of who is the law is not quite certain.

One of the federal agencies, the National Labor Relations Board, has just authorized its general counsel Stuart Rothman, to take contempt action against a man of muscle known as Joey Glimco, and the union of which he is president, Teamster Taxicab local 777, into which the Treasury and Justice Departments have been looking for a long time.

This union, a power in Chicago, had been enjoined by the labor board and a federal court from using violence. The board asserts the violence continued in contempt of court. To end this contempt of the federal judiciary, Mr. Rothman first is taking civil action. If this fails, there will be criminal proceedings.

THIS MOVE came after a foreman of a small metal plant, Louis Lebron, was beaten by two men as he left the National Labor Relations Board regional office in Chicago's Midland Building inside the Loop. He was preparing to testify against Local 777.

Lebron told FBI men that he recognized the two assailants as teamsters. The labor board charges that they were "agents of Local 777" which is moving in on small firms ranging from boat-building concerns to metal fabrication plants.

The Chicago police were called in. Some days later in calm tones, but with teeth-clenching anger, Stuart Rothman told me:

"The labor board is not set up to track down assailants or to investigate cases of extreme violence."

LITTLE LIZ

Most folks' wallets would eventually fatten up if they removed all the credit cards.

"Our agents do not carry weapons. We want the fullest cooperation of police but we will not stand idly by and permit national labor policy to go down the drain. So we and the courts are moving now."

Mr. Rothman then referred to an official statement of the National Labor Relations Board, issued after the beating of Lebron.

THE STATEMENT points out that Lebron was slugged months after a federal court enjoined the local from such activity, which characterized its earlier and unsuccessful efforts to retain the bargaining rights for some 6,000 drivers for the Chicago Checker and Yellow Cab companies.

The drivers deserted the Teamsters and joined the Democratic Union Organizing Committee. This in turn joined up with the Seafarers' International Union led by Paul Hall, an AFL-CIO vice president willing to take International Teamsters' President Jim Hoffa on anywhere in the United States.

Mr. Hoffa may not have read the labor board's official statement on one of the Teamsters' subsidiaries. The statement, issued on April 5, said in part:

"A statutory representative which obtains its representation rights by brutality, beatings, intimidation, ad other violet conduct in disregard of the employees' rights under the statute (NLRA), may be presumed to be incapable of representing employees fairly and impartially."

"A statutory representative which will beat up employees who do not fall in line with its policies can not represent employees fairly and certainly cannot claim that it is the freely chosen bargaining agent of such employees."

MR. ROTHMAN, speaking for the board, said, "in view of the prior cases involving Local 777 and th effects disclosed in tht present case, a board arewide remedial order against the local would be sought . . ." This is now under way.

The present case is the slugging of Lebron. Just before he was beaten he had been in the labor board office which was hearing Local 777's challenge of the result of a plant election at the Crown Metal Co.

Local 777 had lost the election. The board alleges that the union "engaged in other forms of violence, threats and mass picketing" in the course of its campaign for representation.

Now Mr. Rothman will attempt to deprive Local 777 of the right to represent union members if there is continuance of what the board says is contempt of the federal court order banning muscle.

Local 777 is also the target of Treasury Department action seeking to deprive the local of its tax-exempt status. This has been in the courts for some years now.

If the Treasury succeeds, this will be the first union to lose this privilege. Treasury Department success would mean that Local 777 has not been functioning as a union under the tax law, but as a institution in the interest of some of its leaders.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am getting very close to 12 years old so I consider myself almost a teenager. What do you think about freedom of speech for us? I don't mean sassing adults. I mean just talking back to parents when we don't happen to agree with them.

Don't you think kids ought to have their say when an argument comes up? Or do you think they should just sit there and not answer back with anything just because the other person happens to have lived on this earth about 28 years longer.

Please give us an answer right away because a lot of us kids are having this problem lately. — BUGGED.

Dear Bugged: Thanks for writing. A lot of parents are having this problem, too.

In order to answer properly, I'd have to know what you consider "answering back" and how it is different from "sassing."

Kids should be allowed to present their side of the story, but having presented it they should accept the decision of "that person who just happens to have lived on the earth about 28 years longer."

Landlady's Rights

Dear Ann: I take violent exception to the advice you gave the landlady who complained because two working girls entertained male company in their apartment anywhere from 2 to 7 a.m.

You said, "As long as the tenants pay their rent, keep the property in good condition and refrain from disturbing the neighbors, the landlady has no right to complain about their morals."

I have news for you. The landlady HAS a right to complain if the tenants are turning her property into a brothel.

I've rented apartments for a long time and I try to be careful. But it's impossible to judge people by looking at them. I've had neighbors who go on hunting and fishing trips at dawn tell me they see men sneaking out of my apartment house at 4 and 5 a.m. Of course I give these girls notice but too often I get the same kind in their place.

You don't help any by telling these budding Cleopatras it's okay so long as they don't disturb the neighbors. Thanks for nothing. — E.C.W.

Dear E.C.W.: No landlad should permit her apartment house to be turned into a brothel. And it requires no genius to figure out that girls who have a steady stream of male visitors at odd hours are not likely to be entertaining socially.

My advice pertained to working girls. They should not have to account to the landlady for their visitors.

Why don't you insist on references if you have so much trouble?

Happy Ending

Dear Ann: The letter from "Lose Bolt" bolted loose a few memories for me.

I, too, had romantic fantasies about my "lost love." For 17 yrs. I mooned around when I heard "our song." I kept visualizing our life together — as it might have been if we had married.

Then the alumni association announced its big reunion. His name appeared on the roster as one who would be in town for it — with his wife and two children!

My heart leaped! I talked it over with my husband and we agreed to invite the old boy friend, his wife and children to stay in our home. I scrubbed, polished, waxed, shined and ran my-of intervention and removed any governmental objection to the normal system of price-making in steel. This is indeed a salutary development.

Time alone will tell, on the other hand, whether the harassed and troubled industry, which faces such keen competition from the steel makers abroad, can move ahead now to the profits of previous years. If this happens, it will ensure an era of job creation, instead of job destruction. For two and two still make four, and the need for profits, if business is to expand, must inevitably sink into the thinking of labor leaders as being just as essential as a properly timed advance in wage scales.

History Today

Today is Saturday, April 13, the 103rd day of 1963. There are 262 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this day in 1598, King Henry V of France promulgated the Edict of Nantes. Under it, Huguenots were granted greater religious freedom.

On this day: In 1743, President Thomas Jefferson was born in Shadwell, Va.

In 1869, George Westinghouse was granted the first patent for air brakes.

In 1925, Henry Ford began the first regularly scheduled airplane freight line between Detroit and Chicago.

In 1941, Japan and Russia concluded a five-year neutrality pact.

In 1949, eight persons were killed and many injured as the most destructive earthquake ever recorded in the Pacific Northwest caused property damage estimated at $10 million.

In 1962, the U.S. Steel Corp. rescinded a $6-a-ton increase in the price of steel after strong criticism from President Kennedy.

Enjoyed Editorial
Your very fine editorial entitled "Not Since Eliza and the Hounds" deserves a word of congratulations.

We, as Americans, should shout loudly that we deplore such methods as they are using in the south! We should call to the attention of everyone that this is 1963 and not 1863, and, therefore, "the most horrible passage in Stowe's book should have no counterpart in the United States one hundred years later."

I'm sending a copy of your editorial to the editor of the Saturday Evening Post for what it is worth.

Columbiana Easter Cantata Planned

COLUMBIANA — "Hallelujah, What a Saviour," an Easter cantata, by John Peterson, will be presented by the Christian Church adult choir in the church sanctuary at 7:30 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. John Golden will direct the choir, with Mrs. Donald Zellers serving as organist and James Staley will narrate.

Soloists are Marguerite and Rita Sirey, Gordon Gano, and John and Nelda Golden.

Two worship services, at 8:30 a.m. and 10:45 a.m. will be held Sunday at the Columbiana Presbyterian Church. The sermon subject by Rev. Scheidmantle, is "Something to Hold On To."

Special numbers will be presented by the choir, directed by Mrs.

Board To Mail Election Notices

The County Election Board in East Liverpool will mail notices over the weekend to men and women who will serve as judges and clerks in 101 precinct polling places for the May 7 primaries.

Six persons — three from each major party — will staff the polling places in East Liverpool, Wellsville and East Palestine, where two-party primaries will be held.

But under an "economy plan" stipulated by state law, the board will employ only four judges and clerks in areas where there will be only a one-party primary or questions and issues to be decided. Frank O'Hanlon, board clerk, said.

The "economy" rule applies in Salem, which has only a Republican primary — for lack of contests on the Democratic ticket — as well as a vote on a school district issue.

Lisbon and Leetonia will vote only on school district issues, as their party primaries were eliminated under the Ohio "no contest" law.

In the "economy" precincts, the judges and clerks will be paid $12 for the day's work—the maximum permitted by state law in such cases. Those working in precincts where both parties will vote will draw the usual $16 salary. Presiding judges are paid an additional sum for mileage and a fee for picking up voting supplies.

Water Department Employee Injured

Steve T. Kovacs, 48, of 211 N. Howard Ave., a Salem city water department employee for nearly 18 years, is reported in fairly good condition at Youngstown South Side Hospital after an accident caused the amputation of parts of four fingers of his left hand.

Kovacs, an outside repair man, was helping to install a new water service on Whinnery Lane when the accident happened Tuesday. A pipe was being pushed under the street by a hydraulic machine when Kovacs apparently slipped and his left hand went into the machine.

He was rushed first to Salem City Hospital and then to South Side Hospital, Youngstown, where amputation of portions of four fingers on the hand was found necessary. The thumb was not injured.

It is expected Kovacs, who is right handed, will be able to return to his job.

Two Young Drivers Deprived of Licenses

LISBON — Traffic court hearings at the Courthouse this week resulted in the suspension of the driving permits of two young motorists and the fining of another. All were cited by the State Highway Patrol.

Frederic Ellis Naragon, 17, of 897 Home Circle, Salem, and Robert C. Dornick, 16, Lisbon RD 1, each lost their permits for 15 days for speeding.

Gerald W. Miller, 16, Smiths Ferry, was fined $20 for failing to yield the right of way.

Russell Barrow Mrs. James Hunt will present a solo entitled, "Easter Alleluia," by Wilson; and soloists Joseph Burbick and William Arbuckle will sing the anthem "Prepare Ye the Way of the Lord," by Percy.

NEW OFFICERS were elected at the Parent-Teacher Organization meeting held Wednesday evening at South Side School. They will be installed at the May meeting.

Clyde Harrold of the Columbiana Milling Company, owner, will serve as president of the organization during the 1963-64 school year.

Mrs. William Stamets is first vice-president and program chairman; Mrs. Raymond Cole, second vice-president and project chairman; Mrs. Burdell Heck, recording secretary; Mrs. Gus Isaksson, corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Paul Schulz, treasurer.

SOROSIS CLUB will meet at the library at 8 p.m. Wednesday, with Mrs. J. H. Hunt acting as hostess. Program topic for the evening is, "Principals of Government."

"People to People Peace Corps" will be given by Mrs. Homer C. Culp, and "Free Society Versus Communism" by Mrs. Warren Miller. An open discussion will conclude the meeting.

Two Columbiana men have completed a first-level course in Management Development recently conducted at Wittenberg University. They are Robert E. Exten, assistant superintendent of the National Rubber Co., and Robert Gavin, foundry superintendent.

JANET SCHULZ, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schulz, 80 Lakeview Drive, has been elected to membership in Tassel, women's honorary society, at Memphis State University, Memphis, Tenn.

Invitation for membership is based upon scholarship, leadership and service to the university. The initiation banquet is scheduled April 23.

Janet, a senior journalism student, is on the dean's list at the University, managing editor of the student paper, "Tiger Rag," secretary of Pi Delta Epsilon, and secretary of the French Club.

NAMES OF HIGH SCORERS in the preliminary District Scholarship Tests taken recently by Columbiana High School students, have been released by High School Principal Gayle Gloss.

The two top students in each subject are scheduled to take a second test on May 4 at Salem. However, only one test may be taken by each student, and in that case the two top scorers in every subject may not be able to take the second exam. In this instance, the next highest student will be substituted.

Students receiving the highest marks and the subjects tested are: biology, Richard Pine, James Leonard and a tie between Richard Tyson and John Atkinson.

General Science, James Ferrall, David Rowland and Richard McBane; Chemistry, Brian Arbuckle, Duane Spiker and Richard Perrin; physics, Lee Bauman, Ralph Bell and Jeff Lindsay.

Algebra, David Rowland, Dale Young and Martha Vestfals; geometry, George Curl, James Leonard and John Dunbar; American history, Kenneth Huk, Richard Perrin and David Goist.

World History, John Dunbar, Jim Gaw and Gregory Covert; senior social studies, Richard Altomare, Frank Kelly and Dale Murphy; Latin I, Kathy Curl, James Ferrall and David Rowland.

Latin II, Alfred Cunningham, John Atkinson and Carole Firestone; Spanish I, Barbara Bauman and Barbara Gerlach; Spanish II, Grace Gloss and Carol Lindsay.

English 9, James Ferrall, Cathy Curl and Valerie Powers; English 10, Ellen Antoinette and Eric Keck; English 11, Kenneth Huk, James Hawkins and Barbara Bauman; English 12, Grace Gloss, Dale Murphy and Nancy Rowland.

2 Leetonia School Music Events Planned

LEETONIA — The Elementary Music Department of the Leetonia Schools will present a "Music Night" at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 30, at Orchard Hill School.

The program, consisting of folk songs, rhythm drills, a fluteophone band and folk dances. All students from grade one through six in the three elementary buildings will participate. A donation of 25 cents per person will be asked at the door with the money raised going into a "Piano Fund" to buy a new piano for the elementary department.

On Wednesday evening, May 8 the Junior High Chorus will present a Minstrel Show at Orchard Hill School. Donations will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Approximately 400 students will participate in the Elementary Music Night on April 30. The Junior High Chorus is composed of 90 voices.

Both programs are under the direction of Mrs. Carol Davis, elementary music supervisor in the Leetonia Exempted School District.

THE LEETONIA CHAPTER, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its annual inspection at 8 p.m. Monday. Dinner will be served at 6 by women of Mt. Nebo Grange.

"The Resurrection Within Us" will be the topic of the Rev. William L. Woodall's sermon at the 11 a.m. Easter service. Church School will convene at 9:45 a.m.

Fined in Mayor Ralph B. Kennedy's court recently were Waldo Hall, 39, of 122 Mill Street, $20 and cost for reckless operation. The arrest was made by Chief Allen Gibson and Wayne Dewey Longanecker, 25, of Washingtonville, $20 and cost for drunkenness and disorderly conduct. Arrested by Patrolman Nick Cross. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rummel and grandson of Ontario visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Holt.

WILL TEST SIREN

ROGERS — The Rogers volunteer firemen will blow the fire siren each day at 6 p.m., beginning Monday, until further notice. Howard Wise, firemen president, explained the siren blowing is for the purpose of mechanical testing.

CLASSES TO RESUME

Classes in city schools will resume Monday, concluding the one-week Easter recess. Paul Smith, superintendent of schools, announced today.

SUNRISE IN HOLLYWOOD

This is the city where pretense is a profession... where emotion is an art. This is Hollywood's famous Bowl at sunrise on Easter morning.

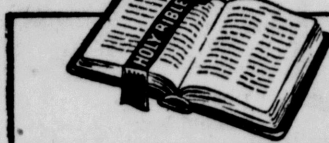

Thousands raising their hearts and prayers to the Lord of Reality... of Truth!

Don't be deluded by the artificiality which sometimes claims the center of life's stage. There is a hunger in the souls of men which our air of well-being cannot hide. There is frustration, futility, despair—and man's calculated unconcern cannot disguise it.

To our churches—to worship, hymn and prayer—we turn when we tire of dreaming and pretending. Can we claim any glory greater than that we are the children of God? Can we own any allegiance bolder than that we are the disciples of Jesus Christ... Risen, Victorious?

Easter is the climax of life's drama... on which the curtain never falls!

DEAR HELOISE: A bedspread can be pressed in two or three minutes if spread on the carpet in the middle of the floor. If one has bare floor they can pat the floor by spreading a blanket or quilt down first.

This is also good when it comes to ironing curtains and carpet in the middle of the floor. In the same manner. This certainly beats using the ironing board and saves sags and puckers in the curtains and requires far less time and work.

MRS. WILLIAM ZABEL.

DEAR HELOISE: To take the odor out of the plastic containers, plastic diaper pails, plastic baby pants and so forth, I place mine in the sunshine for a few hours.

DOROTHY

DEAR HELOISE: Iron-on pockets are a wonderful thing! It is the easy way to replace that pants-pocket your husband keeps losing those bills out of! All one has to do is trim away half of the worn pocket, place the new pocket over the old pocket, and just press with an iron according to instructions. One can do this even without a sewing machine.

MRS. WILLIAM Z.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you have any suggestions for ironing "catchers"?

Everytime I iron a table cloth I spread papers or a white sheet under the ironing board and both are messy and unsatisfactory. Why don't you take an old piece of plastic and throw it

WE WILL HELP YOU!

WE WILL HELP YOU...

When you are remodeling your home or building a new one, why not plan for your telephone service? Our engineers will gladly assist you in making a layout for your home. It is so much easier to do the wiring before the house has been plastered and decorated.

We will wire your new or remodeled home without charge. However, if you desire to have this wiring done by your own electrical contractor, then we will be pleased to supply the special type of wire that is required for a proper telephone installation. Either way, there is no charge by our company to you for this wiring service.

Be sure to include sufficient outlets in your home for telephone installations. Extension telephones in the home cost only $1.00 per month. This is a very reasonable cost for the great convenience of having the telephone handy when you want to use it.

NEW YORK CITY IN PROFILE

Skyscrapers huddle together on the southern tip of Manhattan.

The Statue of Liberty stands her harbor duty with her torch of freedom.

WHEN THE BIRDS eye New York City from the air, what do they see? Perhaps these aerial views of the big city will give a partial answer. This trip takes in the ever familiar Statue of Liberty as well as the newest of attractions, the site of the 1964 World's Fair in Flushing Meadows.

The photo of the bridges shows (from front to rear) the Brooklyn, Manhattan and Williamsburg bridges. Lower Manhattan, with Battery Park in the foreground and its many skyscrapers, offers the look of a beehive from the air. This is New York City from the top.

Social Events In Lisbon Area

By ETTA MAE ALEXANDER

Twenty-nine members of the Daughters of America were present for the meeting Thursday at the D of A Hall. Mrs. Melvin Stark, counselor, presided.

Prizes for cards and games were awarded to Mrs. Charles Hill, Mrs. Clyde Meehan, Mrs. Ruth McKee and Mrs. Sarah Holshue.

Hostess of the evening were John Eaholtz, Mrs. Leona McDewitt and Mrs. Lydia Bennett. The next regular meeting will be Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

An Easter gift exchange was held by the Bid A Wee Club, which met Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Seth Phelps of Colum-biana Road. The meeting night was changed because of the Maundy Thursday Communion service.

The club has planned to 'dine out' on April 25.

The Thursday Night Club was entertained Thursday by Mrs. Robert Taffini of SW. Maple St.

The evening was spent by the members working on afghans, braiding rugs, and other needle work and by playing password.

Prizes were given to Mrs. Eugene McLaughlin and Mrs. Charles Reynolds.

The next club meeting April 25 will be at the home of Mrs. Pete Gallo of Columbiana Road.

with Mrs. Carmen Ieropoli presiding. There will be a nomination and election of officers. All members are urged to attend.

The gypsy festival Smorgasbord Dinner May 2 at the Methodist Church will feature waitresses dressed in gay gypsy costumes by the 468 Club for the Maonic Temple benefit.

As in years past, there will be an abundance and variety of home-made food. Serving time will be 5 to 7 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Judge, Mr. and Mrs. Foster Shattuck, Bus Nicholson, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Lessig, Mr. and Mrs. Art Whan, Mr. and Mrs. Max Gard and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pike of Lisbon and Mrs. Thelma Murphy of Salem are those from this area who attended the Tri-State Explorers Club, which met at the home of Mrs. Vera Bruce of New Castle, Pa., Tuesday.

Tom Carney of New Castle was the guest speaker of the evening.

Easter vacation visitors are Misses Barbara and Marsha Harold, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harold of Steubenville, formerly of Lisbon.

Barbara is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Nicki Rodi of North Market St. and Marsha is at the home of her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Baker of E. High St.

Army Tank Unit Affected By Change

The 83rd Infantry Division, U S Army Reserve, will be reorganized April 15 into the new ROAD (Reorganization Objective, Army Divison) concept, the 20th U S Army Corps headquarters announced today.

The 83rd Division with headquarters in Cleveland, is commanded by Maj. Gen. Harold F. Harding of Columbus.

In this connection, the local Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 7th Medium Tank Battalion (Patton), 68th Armor, will be redesignated Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 7th Tank Battalion, 68th Armor.

The Salem Reserve armory is on Southeast Blvd., just off S. Lincoln Ave.

The reorganization was lauded by Major General Andrew R. Lolli, 20th Corps commander. He termed the move, "real progress which will permit the accomplishment of our mission in time of a national emergency faster, more effectively, and more efficiently."

He described ROAD as the Army's answer to future land warfare with emphasis on increased flexibility, battlefield mobility and firepower.

Bliss to Build Mill For Louisville Plant

A contract for a new 4-high cold reducing mill at the Louisville stainless and strip division plant of Jones Laughlin Steel Corporation has been awarded to E. W. Bliss Company, it was announced today.

The new 44-inch mill will increase J & L's capacity for the production of cold rolled stainless sheet and strip products by approximately 33 per cent.

TO MEET AT LISBON

The Columbiana County Muscular Dystrophy Association will meet at 8 p.m. Monday at the VFW Post Home in Lisbon. President John Cosma will conduct the session, during which a nominating committee will be appointed.

Anniversary Observed By Hanoverton Group

HANOVERTON — Hanoverton Town and Country Club celebrated its first anniversary with a guest day tea Tuesday at the Hanoverton Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. Harrison Burnham, president, conducted a short business meeting and welcomed 30 members and guests. A reminder was made of the forum meeting April 10 at Youngstown on Japanese flower arrangements and a "herb cookery" meeting April 23 in Salem.

An anniversary gift of a gavel was given to the club by Mrs. Don Burnham.

Mrs. Jesse Snyder and Mrs. Richard Russell, program committee, arranged the program. Mrs. Camille Kelton chose Easter as the topic for devotions. Mrs. Chester Stuckey sang a solo, "In the Garden."

Mrs. Kelton, first vice president, gave a talk on the organization of the club and projects completed during its first year. Mrs. E. S. Huffman of Salem, a nationally accredited flower judge was guest speaker. She discussed conservation and showed slides of flower hows and of nature trips she had taken.

She also discussed and gave constructive criticism on the arrangements displayed under the direction of Mrs. Russell, exhibit chairman.

Following the meeting, tea was served with Mrs. John Bortor and Mrs. Burnham presiding at the service. The table was covered with yellow net and decorated with ivy. An anniversary cake decorated in yellow and green served as centerpiece. Mrs. Earl Severs, Sr. was chairman.

A trip to Brown's Daffodil and Peony Gardens at New Springfield is planned for May.

ALTAR AND ROSARY Society from St. Philip Neri Church met Sunday in the parish hall of the church. Miss Josephine Furey presided. Thursday April 18 in the hall "Euchre" and "500"

Sanders Grabs 3-Stroke, Half-Way Lead At Greensboro

Fires Sizzling 61 For Margin

Player Has Trouble Finishes With 74

By KEN ALTYA
Associated Press Sports Writer
GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — Gary Player reclaimed an old lesson—golf is a humbling game—and in the process he slipped from first place to a tie for 17th as the $35,000 Greater Greensboro Open Tournament moved into its third round today.

The little South African was almost lost in the pack after a second round 74 Friday during which he four-putted the 17th green, missing a backhand from about three inches.

While Player was having his troubles, Doug Sanders unleashed a 35-30-61 round, only one over the event record, and moved into the halfway lead on a record-tying 133. The Georgia native with the short swing held a three-shot edge over Dave Marr of New Rochelle, N.Y., whose 67 gave him a 136 total.

Player, almost apologetically, recounted his miseries on the closing holes when he shot bogey golf on the 15th and 16th holes and a double bogey six on the 17th.

"I really felt I was playing well, but it was one of those rounds when everything went wrong," he explained sadly. "The ball bounced off the hard greens a couple of times and cost me strokes. I missed my second putt from about two feet on 17 and I backhanded the third from about three inches—and it missed."

It took a score of 146 or better to qualify 66 pros for the last two days of play on the 7,000-yard Sedgefield Country Club course, over which 6,000 spectators swarmed Friday.

Sharing third place at 137 were Dick Mayer, Tom Aaron, Don Fairfield and Kel Nagle. Seventime winner Sam Snead and Jimmy Clark were next at 138, with eight men one shot back of them.

Salem Softball Group Meeting Set Wednesday

The Salem Softball Association will hold a meeting at the Memorial Building Wednesday at 7 p.m.

Teams are needed in both the Class A and AA divisions, and the league also needs several sponsors.

Superintendent of Parks Rusty Tomlinson reports that Kelley Field should be ready for play the first week in May. The Association hopes to get its campaign underway the second week of May.

Defending city and district champs Old Dutch has entered the Class AA loop.

Others in the fold include Salem Merchants, Shaffer Ford, Lisbon VFW and Stephanics Tavern.

In Class A, the Gold Bar, E.W. Bliss, and Conser's have already entered squads. Last year's champs Doms Sohio are not fielding a unit this year.

Any team or sponsor interested in getting into either one of the divisions should contact Dick Youngpeter or Charlie Delvichio.

Herb Score Decides Against Retirement

LAKE WORTH, Fla. (AP)—Herb Score's retirement from baseball lasted just four days.

The hard-luck left-hander will continue in the game, he said Thursday night, under assurances from the Chicago White Sox that he'll be recalled to the major leagues if he does well in the minors.

"Ed Short, the White Sox general manager, called me several times urging me to reconsider," Score said at the home of his mother here in confirming Al Lopez' announcement in Los Angeles that he would report as scheduled to Indianapolis of the International League.

"Many friends of mine made the same plea. When he assured me that if I do well at Indianapolis the White Sox will recall me, I decided to go back. I didn't want to quit."

Score, 29, had announced his retirement Sunday night after the White Sox had optioned him for the second straight year to Indianapolis.

Score, six years ago one of the top left-handers in baseball, has been struggling to stay in the majors since he was seriously injured by a line drive off the bat of Yankee infielder Gil McDougal in 1957.

Tribe Seeks First Home Win Today

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians, who disappointed fans in their 1963 home debut, get another chance to win their first game at the stadium today when they meet the Detroit Tigers.

Pedro Ramos, the Cuban cowboy who says he is happy to be playing under Manager Birdie Tebbetts, pitches against the Tigers' Phil Regan.

The Indians won their first game of the season against Minnesota Tuesday with an outburst of four home runs. They were beaten by the Twins the next day, then dropped a 6-1 decision to the Tigers Thursday as Don Mossi

Thistledown Redecorates Club House

Tastefully redecorated in eye appealing aqua, the Thistledown club-house, one of the most beautiful and spacious to be found in any race track in the country, will sparkle at its finest when the track opens its 44-day thoroughbred race meeting on Monday, May 27.

Work on beautifying the glass-enclosed clubhouse is going forward as part of the general program of improvements inaugurated by Thistledown President Edward J. DeBartolo to provide every comfort and convenience for patrons of the show place of racing in Ohio.

In addition to its new color scheme, the huge clubhouse also features oil paintings of horses and racing scenes on the walls of its attractive entry-way. Colorful floral decorations add to the room's beauty.

The Thistledown clubhouse, which has seating facilities for 2,200, features a three-level dining room in which 750 patrons can be served simultaneously. A complete, modern kitchen is equipped to handle capacity crowds expeditiously.

Reached conveniently by both elevator and escalator from the ground floor of the seven-story Thistledown stands, the clubhouse can be heated on cool days and air-conditioned in warm weather to provide year-around comfort for Thistledown patrons. Every seat provides an uninterrupted view of the mile-long Thistledown track.

A service bar and ample mutual department windows to accommodate thoroughbred racing fans have been worked tastefully into the spacious clubhouse area.

Dodgers Hitting Concerns Alston

After His Club Loses 2-1 To Houston

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
"I'm a darned sight more concerned about this club scoring some runs than I am about dissension," said Walt Alston, mild-mannered manager of the Los Angeles Dodgers.

He had better be. The Dodgers may not be hit by dissension, but on the other hand, they're not hitting.

Alston made his remarks about dissension reports before the Dodgers took the field against Houston and rapped Dick Farrell for four hits and one run in 12 innings as the Colts squeezed out a 2-1 victory Friday night.

In the only other game scheduled Friday, Kansas City's Ed Rakow allowed only two hits as the A's won their first game, 6-0 over Minnesota. The Colts' victory

Amherst Wins 4-Mile Relay At Mansfield In 18:51.4

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—The winner of the opening four-mile relay event, Amherst Steele High School, was bucking precedent today in its bid to parlay the six points it earned into enough to claim the Mansfield Relays championship.

Only two schools in the previous 31 years of the interscholastic track and field meet here have won the four-mile and gone on to the title. They were Salem in 1931 and Pittsburgh Central Catholic in 1957.

Amherst's Tom Schoemig ripped off a 4:27 opening mile to give his team the jump Friday—but Euclid's Bob Kovach was only a step behind and Euclid moved in front before Amherst's anchor man, Dennis Traster, recaptured the lead and beat Birmingham (Mich) Seaholm by a stride.

The winners, coached by Dick Cooley, ran the distance in 18 minutes, 51.5 seconds—nearly 11 seconds slower than the Mansfield Relays record set in 1960 by Mount Lebanon, Pa.

Akron Buchtel was third, Euclid fourth and South Euclid Brush fifth. Marion Harding ran sixth in the 26-team field.

Seventeen events finish the meet today, with 136 schools from Ohio, Pennsylvania, Michigan and Kentucky sending 1,354 boys after blue ribbons in the state's traditional first major outdoor track test of the spring.

Then, in the 12th, Howie Goss, recently acquired from Pittsburgh and hitting .444, wrapped the game up for Farrell. Goss, who beat out three infield singles while failing to get the ball out of the infield in five previous trips to the plate, came up with the bases loaded and lashed an Ed Roebuck pitch down the third base line, sending Al Spangler across with the deciding run.

The Dodgers scored first, pushing across a run in the top of the ninth on Frank Howard's run-scoring single, but the Colts tied it in their half on Carl Warwick's single.

Boston Eyes 5th Straight NBA Title

Celtics Meet Lakers In Playoffs Sunday

By BOB HOOBING
Associated Press Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — There are plenty of reasons—not the least of which is money—why the old pro Boston Celtics want a fifth straight National Basketball Association playoff championship and sixth in seven years.

The Celtics begin the best-of-7 finals against Los Angeles Sunday night at Boston Garden.

Ask Tommy Heinsohn why the Celtics want this title so much and he replies:

"I guess the biggest reason is that everyone jumped off our bandwagon at the beginning of the year. All of a sudden the Lakers were the team—the team of the future. That hurt."

The winner of this series, which continues here Tuesday night and then moves to Los Angeles Wednesday and Friday, gets $12,000. The loser takes in $14,000.

But there's most to it than that. The Celtics want to prove they're not over the hill and had dedicated this one to retiring Capt. Bob Cousy.

The Lakers are driven by the desire to avenge their loss to Boston in the full seven games a year ago when the Celtics pulled out a frantic 110-107 overtime verdict in the final game.

Both teams are just coming off full seven game semifinals in which the Celtics outlasted Cincinnati and the Lakers eliminated St. Louis.

100-Lap Feature Set For New Cars

Rabbi Hippley Will Race Ford In Canfield Opener April 20

With the opening stock car race just a little more than a week away, district stock car drivers are busy getting their cars ready for the 1963 Canfield Speedway inaugural.

The opener, set for next Saturday night, will feature the MARC new car circuit and headlining the card will be a 100-lap race on the quarter-mile track.

The district list includes Rabbi Hippley of Salem in a 1961 Ford. Don Sawyer of Girard who will be driving a 1963 Ford, and Nook Walters of Niles and Bill Forney of Youngstown have 1961 Chevrolets.

The district drivers will find plenty of competition as several top national stars will be in the lineup. MARC's 1962 new car champ, Iggy Katona of Milan, Mich., is entered in a 1963 Ford; Buddy Ward of Louisville, Ky., in a 1963 Chevrolet; Jim Cushman of Columbus in a 1963 Plymouth; Dick Freeman of Dayton in a 1962 Mercury; Bob Sandman of Pittsburgh in a 1962 Chevrolet, and many other top stars.

Race time is 8:30 p.m. Gates to the speedway will open at 6:30 p.m. and time trials begin at 7.

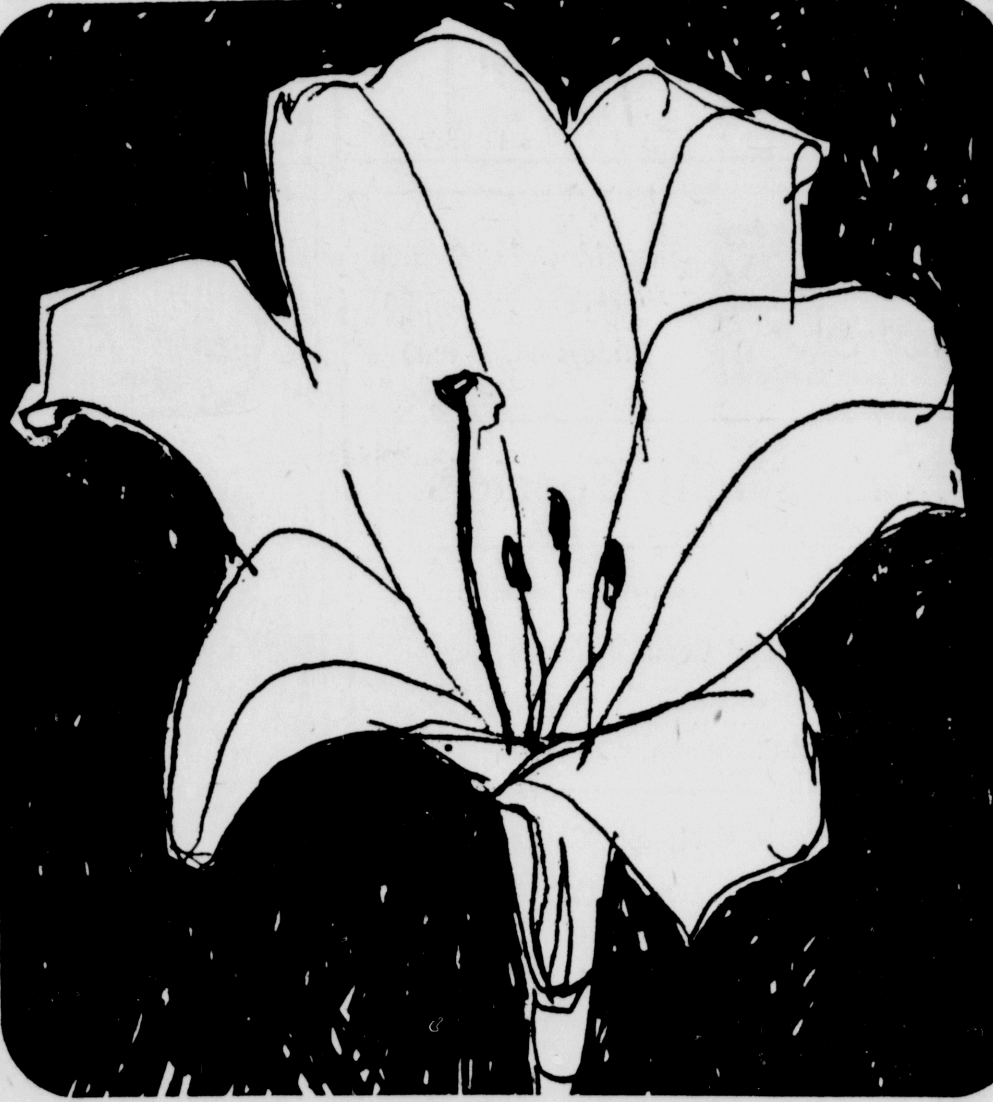

The annual open house will be staged for the amateurs and late

A word from THERON at the Country Store

We still have a lot of people talking about the birthday party we had on my birthday, Nov. 10th. We not only celebrated my birthday but all of yours who had a birthday on November 10th. It was the most successful one day celebration we have had.

My youngest daughter, Barbara Sue, has her birthday the same day. This year we hope to have a repeat on this and hope we get even more with a November 10th birthday. Of course you know everyone is invited to this party.

Soviets Launch Another Satellite

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched another artificial earth satellite, Cosmos V, today, Tass, the Soviet News agency announced.

It carries equipment to continue space studies in accordance with a program announced March 16, 1962, Tass said. It added that all equipment aboard is functioning normally and information being received is being processed at a coordinating computing center.

Tass said the Sputnik is orbiting the earth every 92.1 minutes and that its distance from the earth ranges from 164 miles to 318 miles.

The satellite's radio is transmitting on 20.004 megacycles. In addition, Tass said, it has a radio system that can calculate precise measurements of the orbit.

The most recent previous unmanned earth satellite in this series, Cosmos III, was launched March 21.

The Cosmos series began last spring when the Soviet Union announced a program to gather scientific facts concerning space. The data, such as radiation information, is intended to be useful in planning manned space flights.

Home Moravian Church. The Annual crowd, which usually numbers 20,000, marches to God's Acre, the Moravian graveyard, called "City of the Equal Dead." One of the nation's most unusual Easter sunrise services will take place in two Missouri caves.

The Rev. Lyman Riley will conduct the services at Meramec Caverns, Stanton, Mo., for motorists traveling on Route 66. The Mormon minister also will conduct another service in Onondage Cave, Leasburg, Mo., where he uses a natural rock formation as a pulpit.

Sunrise services will be held atop Bald Knob in the Shawnee Hills section of southern Illinois, the highest spot in the state. Worshipers from five states will attend the services that were originated 23 years ago by a mail carrier and a country parson. Bald Knob has an 111-foot cross erected by public subscription.

School Boards Plan Annual Get-Together

Representatives Clarence (Dutch) Wetzel of Columbiana County and Robert Longworth of Carroll County will discuss proposed new legislations when boards of education representatives meet Thursday at 8 p.m. at the Wellsview High School.

Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, a member of the county board of education, is the general chairman of the annual event, with executive heads and school board members of all school districts in the county invited.

Boards were asked to make out questions for the two representatives to answer in regards to their school problems.

Man Gets 60 Days For Court Contempt

LISBON — An East Liverpool man was sentenced to 60 days in county jail for contempt of court when he appeared before Common Pleas Judge Raymond S. Buzzard Friday.

Miley Jenrette, 21, of 505 Virginia Ave., was charged with contempt after he failed to appear before the grand jury to testify in the case of Winslow Twyman of Midland, who allegedly cut him in a Virginia Ave. apartment Feb. 2. The case was continued.

All but three days of Jenrette's sentence was suspended providing he pays a $10 fine.

Yoos, Shaw Named Lisbon Boy Staters

LISBON — Charles J. Yoos, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Yoos, and Joey Shaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shaw, will represent the Kiwanis Club and American Legion, respectively, at the annual Buckeye Boys State in June.

Both boys are juniors at David Anderson High School and were recommended to the two organizations by High School Principal George Nace.

Cafeteria Menu

School resumes Monday after the Easter vacation and the cafeteria menu for the Salem Senior High School and Junior High is:

MONDAY — Vegetable beef on snow, pineapple, cookie, bread, butter, milk.

TUESDAY — Beef stew, cole slaw, pudding, biscuits, butter, milk.

WEDNESDAY — Hamburg, buttered potatoes, carrot sticks, fruit, milk.

THURSDAY — Chili macaroni, buttered green beans, applesauce, bread, butter, milk.

FRIDAY — Tomato soup, sandwich, stuffed celery, applesauce, cake, milk.

Crash

had to be pried from the wrecked auto by Patrolman F. E. Bober and others. The Patrol said he was a passenger in the right rear seat.

He became Mahoning County's fourth highway traffic fatality of the year, according to the Patrol. No arrests have been made pending further investigation by the Patrol.

Youth

Monday without leaving any word. At Key West, Roger evidently arranged passage on the Trevor's boat Dream Girl.

Shortly after noon Thursday the Trevors departed.

Another fisherman said he saw the Dream Girl, capable of 20-knot speed, streaking away from the Key West area about 6 p.m.—the time Trevor said he would be home. A search was then begun.

A Coast Guard plane spotted the Dream Girl Friday night, out of fuel and adrift in the Nicholas Channel only 20 miles north of Cuba's northern coast. The patrol boat was dispatched from Key West and made the pickup.

May Finish in June

Cloud believes the state legislative machine is running so smoothly now that his prediction of a May 30 or early June adjournment date for the General Assembly will stand.

"Of course the big push will be on in the Senate," said Cloud. "It always is. I don't know how well prepared the Senate is to act on these measures."

Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Nelsonville, has said repeatedly that the Senate won't be ready to call it quits before the end of the fiscal year—June 30.

"Roger might be going home at the end of May," said Mechem. "But if he does, he'll be going alone."

5 Ministers Speak At Lisbon Services

LISBON — Approximately 140 persons attended each of five Good Friday church services held yesterday afternoon at the First Methodist Church.

Five preachers who spoke for half-hour each included the Rev. Frank Hare of Beaver United Presbyterian parish; the Rev. William Harper, Bethel Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Paul T. Gerrard, First Presbyterian Church; the Rev. Russell Long, Lisbon Nazarene Church; the Rev. Harold Applegate, West Point Nazarene Church, and the Rev. William Brown of First Methodist Church.

Mrs. Theodore Greener served as organist for the services.

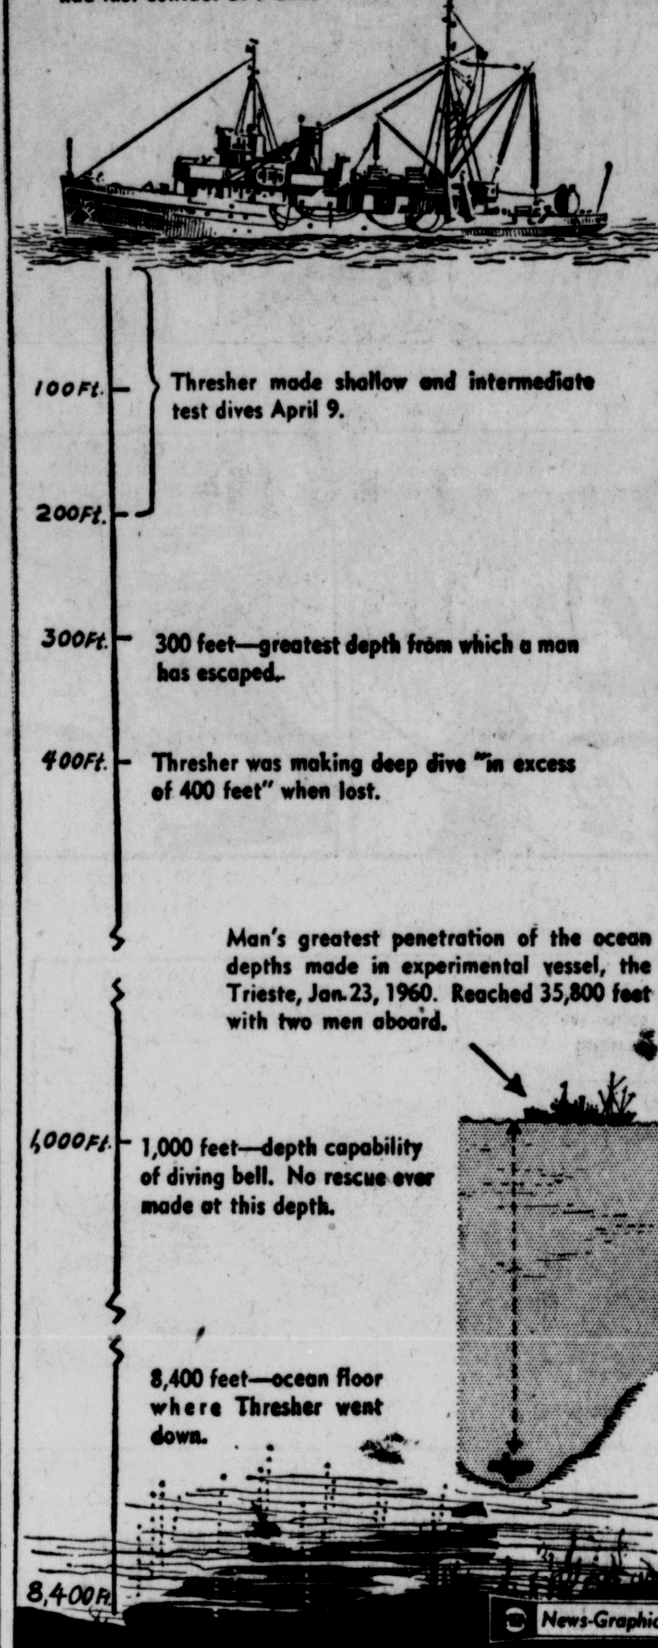

GRASS FIRES HALTED

Salem city firemen were called to extinguish two grass fires Friday.

The fires were near Copacia Lake at 4:16 p.m. and at the residence of James H. Wilson, 716 S. Lincoln Ave., at 8:38 p.m. No damage was reported.

Disaster at Sea

USS Skylark, rescue vessel accompanying the Thresher, had last contact at 9 a.m.

Compared to the sea, the air and space above it have yielded easily before man's insistent penetrations. The sea, below shallow depths, is yet an unconquered place of mystery. The Thresher, in waters a mile and a half deep, is beyond the futile grasp of rescuers. Record exploration into the sea (inset in chart above) was made successfully by the experimental craft Trieste which went down seven miles.

Wage, Hour Division Files Action Actions

Legal action against four area companies was taken by the U.S. Department of Labor in Federal District Courts of Ohio during the first quarter of 1963.

A U.S. district court granted the Department of Labor orders permanently enjoining and restraining R. D. Whitacker of Lisbon from future violations of the overtime pay, and/or the minimum wage, and the record-keeping provisions of the Federal Wage-Hour Law.

In a criminal arraignment, the three affiliated Youngstown firms of Columbiana Slag Co., the Sylvestri Bros. and the Mahoning Slag Co. were found guilty of willful violations of the overtime pay and record-keeping provisions of the Federal Wage-Hour Law.

Here's How Ohio's Congressmen Voted

Here is the way district members of the Ohio Senate and House of Representatives voted recently:

Bill to create an Ohio Board of Regents (passed 20-11): Carney (D) of Youngstown and Sargus

(D), St. Clairsville, no; Grose (R), Youngstown, yes;

Bill to allow quarterly payment of public utility excise taxes (passed 19-12): Carney and Sargus, no; Grose, yes.

Bill to change four-man state liquor board to three-man commission (passed 109-21): Barrett (D) of Mahoning County and Wetzel (R) of Columbiana County, yes; Gilmartin (D) of Mahoning County and Tablack (D) of Mahoning County, no.

Bill to establish 40-hour work week for non-teaching school employees (passed 82-41): Barrett, Gilmartin, Tablack and Wetzel, yes.

Bill to increase from $20 to $30 a day the pay of appeals court judges when holding court outside their district (failed 59-60): Barrett and Gilmartin, yes; Tablack and Wetzel, no.

Drivers

was charged with failure to stop within assured clear distance.

At 11:49 p.m. cars driven by David J. Roth, 17, of 837 Newgarden Ave. and James Jay Jeffries, 22, of 820 Liberty St. collided on Brooklyn Ave. at the intersection of E. State St.

Jeffries was charged with driving while intoxicated.

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. William Robert Timken, widow of an Ohio industrialist, left an estate of $43,954,062, papers filed in surrogate court showed.

Mrs. Timken, who died amid her art collection in her Fifth Avenue apartment Oct. 22, 1959, at the age of 88, was married to a founder of the Timken Roller Bearing Co. of Canton, Ohio.

Most of the estate—about $30 million of it—will go for federal and state taxes.

The federal tax was listed as $28,175,009 and the New York State tax as $7,481,504. However, $5 million representing state taxes is deductible from the federal bill.

Chief assets of the estate were stocks and bonds valued at $36,895,027. A block of General Motors stock was appraised at $15,232,219. The next largest single block of stock was 239,000 shares of Timken, valued at $13,393,026.

Cash in banks and brokerage accounts was valued at $4,440,098. The art treasures found in Mrs. Timken's apartment were appraised at $1,591,225.

They included a Rembrandt—"Christ and the Woman of Samaria" valued at $150,000. Another Rembrandt, "Saskia," was valued at $125,000. A self-portrait by Titian was listed at $125,000 and another painting by the same artist, "Father of Caterina," was appraised at $150,000.

By the terms of Mrs. Timken's will, dated January 8, 1950, the art collection was divided equally between the National Gallery of Art and the Metropolitan Museum of Art. The Fine Arts Society of San Diego was bequeathed "Portrait of Lady with Fan" by Goya and "Bull Fight" by Lucas.

Mrs. Timken's jewelry collection, valued in the neighborhood of $1 million, was directed to be sold and the proceeds to go to a number of organizations including the American Red Cross; Travelers Aid Society; Community Service Society of New York; New York Association for the Blind; Boy Scouts of America, and the Memorial Hospital for the Treatment of Cancer and Allied Diseases.

One half of the estate will go to Mrs. Timken's son, Robert Freeman Ford, and the balance to grandsons and granddaughters.

Lisbon Grass Fire Along Creek Halted

LISBON — Firemen were called Friday at 5:30 p.m. to extinguish a grass fire between S. Lincoln Ave. and S. Market St. along Little Beaver Creek.

Children playing in that area allegedly started the fire which caused no damage, firemen said.

COUNTY BOARD TO MEET

Tuna

York area. The FDA said the tuna—kosher to meet Jewish dietary restrictions and doubly supervised for the Jewish Passover season to ensure that no leavened bread is contained in it was packed by the Washington Packing Corp. of San Francisco.

That firm, shut down since March 22, also packed tuna which apparently led to the deaths from botulism of two Detroit women last month. They had obtained their tuna from an A&P store in Detroit. The FDA said tests showed type E botulinum in the unused portion of the tuna fish.

A&P removed all of the suspected shipment from its shelves and subsequent checks showed no other contaminated cans. However, a can packed by Washington Packing and shipped to a California firm also was found to have type E botulinum.

The FDA said the earlier A&P shipment and the Passover tuna now in question were the only interstate shipments it knows of from the Washington Packing Corp.
